

99-100 Year Prison Terms In Murder Case

Prison terms of 99 to 100 years were set by Associate Judge James W. Gray in St. Clair county circuit court in Belleville Friday against two men found guilty of murder in St. Louis.

Those convicted were Kascell Jennings, 26, Eagle Park Acres, and James Hyde, 28, East St. Louis.

They were found guilty in the fatal shooting of Paul O. Walker, 41, a Farm Grove, Mo., truck driver, during an armed robbery last July 23 at an East St. Louis car wash.

The two also were convicted of the armed robbery of three men in the car wash at the time of the murder of the victim.

Research had recommended the death penalty for both defendants, but the judge was not bound by the recommendation according to Illinois law.

Area Heart Fund Kick Off Dinner Set Tomorrow

Reservations are due today for the 1970 Heart Fund Campaign "Kick Off Dinner," set for tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. at the Spring Pit Inn, 1000 Edwardsville.

Local residents may contact Mrs. Maxine Butler at 5:30 p.m. at 876-7922.

Principal speaker will be State Sen. Merrill Ottwein, co-chairman of the Madison County Heart Association's 1970 drive with Mrs. George Goeken of Alton.

Local area chairmen, Mrs. Dorothy Nenninger, who is directing the Granite City and rural area drive, and Mrs. Verda Krosch, who is the fund-raising leader, today reminded Quad-Cities there are over 500,000 deaths from heart attack each year — many thousands of them among people in their prime life.

The jury had recommended the death penalty for both defendants, but the judge was not bound by the recommendation according to Illinois law.

Venice Board to Aid Traffic Light Request

Petitions requesting the installation of traffic signals at Route 203 and Harrison avenue, south of the McCambridge avenue viaduct, are being circulated by the Venice Board of Concerned Residents of Eagle Park Acres, with more than 100 signatures collected so far, according to Eddie L. Salmond, Eagle Park Association president.

The association's quest for the signal lights was advanced last week when the Venice school board acknowledged the hazardous situation and agreed to back the project with letters to Lt. Gov. Paul Simon and Robert Krosch, district highway engineer.

It was noted in the letters that slow-moving school buses have difficulty entering heavily-traveled Route 203 from Harrison avenue.

They also note the Harrison avenue exit from Eagle Park is one of the few school bus routes permitted to travel as a second exit on the west side of Eagle Park crosses several sets of unguarded railroad tracks. The Venice board earlier had selected buses from the public school buses from among those.

A citizen's committee, headed by Charles Green of the Eagle Park Acres, has recruited a team of engineers, a French Village two weeks ago. State highway department officials agreed to conduct a traffic survey to determine whether the number of vehicles on Route 203 justifies traffic lights.

The increased flow of traffic along Route 203, particularly during the summer, has forced private vehicles as well as school buses to leave the area, Maple said.

Several traffic accidents have occurred here within the past few months involving cars attempting to turn left onto Harrison avenue.

Signal Lights Approved At Pontoon-Highway 111

The Illinois Department of Highways will call for bids within the next 2 months for installation of electric traffic signals at the intersection of Pontoon Highway 111 and resurfacing of both approaches to the "T"-shaped junction with anti-skid road materials.

Pontoon Beach Mayor Thomas Staicoff said the department has agreed to the village's request for five-year campaign to get traffic signal lights installed.

"I appreciate the efforts of everyone who helped in this," Staicoff said. "The village president said, 'a great many people pushed for this safety measure over the past five years.'

A four-year haggle between Pontoon Beach officials and highway authorities concerning excessive speed limits along Route 111 within the village boundaries was resolved last month when Illinois State Director of Highways, Illinois Public Works Department, Springfield, approved speed limit reductions to 50 mph along the dispute section.

The area, previously speeded to 65 mph speeds, includes the Pontoon Beach road intersection, site of the majority of auto accidents in the village in the past three years.

Winter left Czechoslovakia a week after the invasion. The same day, he signed his country's signed agreement in Moscow. During the time, the underground radio was the air he directed the news programming.

The Czech journalist spent two years as a newspaper foreign affairs columnist and editor before being forced out of the field in 1967 for political reasons. At present, he again could appear in public, he joined the nationalized television network, first as foreign editor and, beginning in 1967, as top man in the news department.

Three years later, Winter joined his first trip to the U.S. as a member of a State Department international exchange. At that time, he became the SIU-SW mass communications faculty.

Prof. Rider recognized Winter's voice as commentator for a special segment on Czechoslovak produced in 1965 in London. Immediately, he began steps to see if Winter would consider coming to the local campus.

Jaycees' Prime Objective Is Community Development

United States Jaycees, now more than a quarter of a million strong, working for community betterment in 6400 chapters across the nation, just yesterday completed the observance of "Jaycee Week" in the 50th anniversary year of the young men's service organization.

"One line of the Jaycee Creed 'Service to Community is the best work of life'—leads many young men, 21 through 35 years of age, to community involvement," Stanley Noe, Granite City Jaycee president said today. "Voluntary service to our community is the prime concern of all chapter members and our organization is open to any young man," Noe said.

Long considered one of the most active Jaycee clubs in the state, the Granite City Jaycees was organized Nov. 24, 1947, with 33 men. Elected to lead the first chapter was Fred Sillies.

National Honors

Two local Jaycees were named National Jaycee Seniors—Earl Dotzauer, club president in 1966-67, and the Distinguished Service Award, club president in 1966-67.

Within the past year, local Jaycees have sponsored several events to benefit youth and the community. Most spectacular was the 1968 Statewide Jaycee Jamboree, the state-wide track and field meet, held in July, which attracted close to 2400 youthful athletes and visitors to the Quad-Cities.

Among other successful achievements during the past year was the tenth annual "Bowling Sweepstakes" which resulted in plastic crib covers being presented to the pediatrics wing at Elizabeth Hospital, as well as a $1000 gift to the hospital.

Leslie E. Fossieck, 24, of Bethalto, a member of the Madison County Board of Supervisors for almost 40 years and president of the Bethalto National Bank, died Thursday at All Saints Memorial Hospital. He had entered the hospital Jan. 17.

A resident of Bethalto that year, Mr. Fossieck operated a retail equipment business from 1968 to 1970 with his brother, Francis Fossieck, who died last year. Previously, he was in partnership with other family members in two retail businesses, a paint and hardware store and a lumber yard.

He entered county politics in the late 1920s for "one term" in the county supervisor board and was continuously re-elected, remaining on the board for the next 40 years.

In an upset election last year, Mr. Fossieck was defeated by Mr. Prehn. As a member of the county board, he served as chairman of the finance committee for 28 years.

Active in numerous civic and service organizations, Fossieck was a member of the Madison County Historical Society, a member of the Bethalto Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Bethalto United Methodist Church.

He also was a past district governor of Rotary District 646, a former member of the Madison County American Legion, a member of the Cottage Hill Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, past secretary of Madison Lodge 100, past master of the Order of Eastern Star and a charter member of the Bethalto Rotary club.

Last Monday evening, although he was in failing health, Mr. Fossieck was named the Outstanding Citizen of the Year by Bethalto Jaycees. He had been active for many years with the Boy Scouts organization and was serving as a scout counselor at the time of his death.

He was born in Bunker Hill, Ill., is survived by his wife, Mrs. Eva Ellen Fossieck, a son, Leslie E. Fossieck, Bethalto, a brother, Orville of Wood River, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. today at the Bethalto United Methodist Church.

and recipient of this year's DSA award.

Preley also served as a National Jaycee director and Illinois state vice-president, as well as president of the club in 1949-50. Two other former club presidents, Bill Wyatt and Paul Morris, also were elected to state office, serving as state vice-presidents.

Within the past year, local Jaycees have sponsored several events to benefit youth and the community. Most spectacular was the 1968 Statewide Jaycee Jamboree, the state-wide track and field meet, held in July, which attracted close to 2400 youthful athletes and visitors to the Quad-Cities.

Among other successful achievements during the past year was the tenth annual "Bowling Sweepstakes" which resulted in plastic crib covers being presented to the pediatrics wing at Elizabeth Hospital, as well as a $1000 gift to the hospital.

The chapter has assisted in the formation of Jaycees groups in Edwardsville and Highland, and provided representatives at all Illinois Jaycee meetings and to state-sponsored events, such as the recent "Model Con Con" project.

The chapter's principal fundraising project in 1970 will be an "International Championship Bocce" in Granite City next July.

Current officers are: Noe, president; Dave Moser, Bob Bischoff and Stan Brown, vice-chairmen; Bill McManis, state chairman; Boyd Preley, treasurer; Jim Jeffries, secretary; and Gary Portell, sergeant-at-arms.

IP energy helps things happen.

This, too, is Progress—Illinois style.

While continuing to be a leader in both industrial growth and farm production, Illinois hasn't overlooked another important phase of its development—recreation.

Today there are many thousand square miles of brand new lakes in Illinois, surrounded by some of the finest recreational facilities available.

Electric and gas energy from Illinois Power plays an important part in developing new recreation areas. The giant earth-moving machines that can reshape wastelands into playlands are made by manufacturers we serve.

So is much of the steel and concrete that creates new lakes, dams and reservoirs.

More and more, our energy is used to illuminate marinas and campsites, playgrounds and pools... to help fulfill the human need for recreation.

In providing a full life for its residents, Illinois today is also a leader. And energy from Illinois Power helps it happen.

In his report, President Henn said that last Boypower '76, one year ago, "is focused on the scouter team and its accountability for advancing our program in both quality and quantity."

"Our communities and our America are faced with many problems today. Every locale feels the pressure from youth, and Boypower '76 is designed to direct this pressure and energy into channels which will give the highest type of manpower available."

"It's challenges to the Cahokia Mound Council are to mobilize personnel and resources to involve more than a representative third of all boys, and to help families and institutions prepare a new generation with skill and confidence to master the changes needed of America's future and prepare to give leadership to it."

Character, Citizenship

"To meet the goals, we will need to keep to the fore our traditional and significant purpose of character education and citizenship training."

"It will require more units, more sponsors and more leaders—volunteer and professional. Our financial support will need to be expanded. The best will be expected. The best will be given."

Operating committee reports were given by Franzen, camping; Fox, training; Shindel, personnel; Winschel, public activities; Homert, advancement; Thorneburg, organization and extension; Froehling, finance; and Sternberg, Sunnen.

"It is important and exciting work," Henn concluded. "Both the future of our communities and the future of our nation are at stake."

The girl in the picture is named Chris.

For over a year, she was on amphetamines, powerful drugs known as "speed." This is how she describes it:

"I think 'speed' is a lot worse than heroin. Kids have got to know about it, because they can so easily into taking it through the diet pill hassle, or needing something to help them study."

"You know, that's crazy. Because the combination of amphetamines and no sleep just blows your memory completely."

"There are whole sections of my life which I just can't remember. It got to be just 'do a little more, do a little more,' until that was all there was."

Aid to Non-Public Schools—A Necessity

An important issue confronting our state is assistance to non-public schools—and I saw the need for it dramatically a few weeks ago.

I was about to speak to an assembly at Christian Brothers High School in Quincy. Before introducing me, the principal of the high school, Brother Pius, said he had an important announcement to make, an announcement he would make with great reluctance.

He proceeded to tell a hushed and stunned student body that at the end of the school year the Christian Brothers school would have to abandon the high school because of the heavy deficit in operating the school each year.

This same type of action is taking place in all parts of the state.

Will Quincy be an enriched community without that high school? I think not.

Will Quincy taxpayers be better off? Obviously they are going to be hurt.

Will taxpayers around the state also be hurt? To the extent they help pay education costs in Quincy, they will.

The trend is very clear. There are in Illinois approximately 477,000 young people in our non-public grade schools and high schools. This is down $1,000 from last year and $1,000 from the year before, while public school figures have been rising dramatically. If the present trend continues, as many as 70,000 of the 477,000 now enrolled in private schools may transfer to public schools.

Regardless of what your feelings may have been in the past, it is clearly desirable from an economic viewpoint to avoid that tremendous shift of tax burden to the public.

The only tax done and done constitutionally—is through the type of measure introduced in the last session by Representative Edward Copeland, an outstanding Republican legislator. It called for state assistance on a per pupil basis to non-public schools, at the rate of $60 per grade school student and $90 per high school student.

When these figures are compared with the average cost to taxpayers of more than $750 per student in public schools, it is clearly to our advantage to inaugurate a program of aid to private schools.

The reasons are not only economic, however.

One other is that the existence of a dual system of schools brings with it some healthy, though restricted, competition and its existence below that level continues to be important. There is no question that in some areas the non-public schools are superior to the public schools, and the existence of these superior schools within a school district has to be a healthy goal to the public schools there.

Another reason that state aid to non-public schools is desirable is that a small number of non-public elementary schools are not meeting minimum state standards, some of which are much standard. These young people should not be denied quality education. One good way of increasing quality is to say that state aid is available only to those schools which meet minimum state standards.

So we are faced with the need for action. We must move within the constitutional framework, but we must move decisively.
